

BIG ON COMFORT, PERFORMANCE

For Immediate Release

CRYSTAL RIVER, Fla. (July 23, 2007) – Pro-Line Boats, the leader in fish boat construction for the past 40 years, loads big comfort and big performance into a small package with its 20-foot Express.

Ideal for offshore and nearshore fishing as well as casual family outings, this value-laden vessel boasts all the strength, dependability and design elements inherent to Pro-Line's boat building expertise and attractively presents them in a boat that fits any budget. The most compact of Pro-Line's popular Express series, this spry 20-footer makes exceptional versatility available to boaters with a variety of needs.

"Everyone can appreciate the power and presence of our flagship 35 Express, but not everyone needs that much boat," said Pro-Line General Manager John E. Walker. "We wanted to make sure that small boaters could also enjoy a top-tier fish boat with a comfortable cabin. We accomplished exactly that with the 20 Express."

When plans call for a relaxed day of family boating, features such as a tempered glass windshield, stainless steel bow handrail, half dive platform with ladder, captains chairs, and molded aft jump seats ensure a pleasant ride. Also, a surprisingly roomy cabin with stylish cushions, hatch and portholes provides a retreat from the elements.

For fishing duties, the 20 Express provides a 27-gallon lighted baitwell with raw water wash down, rod holders, horizontal rod racks and a 27-gallon fish box for icing the day's catch. An 8-foot, 5-inch beam and 47 square feet of cockpit area make this a very roomy 20-footer.

"The 20 Express is an entry-level boat that performs just as well as our larger Express boats," Walker said. "Whether a customer goes with the basic package or a customized model, the Pro-Line 20 Express promises many hours of enjoyable family fun on the water."

All Pro-Line Express boats offer spacious cockpits, non-skid decking, ergonomically designed helm stations and plenty of comfortable seating that let boaters enjoy the journey as much as the destination. Built to handle rough conditions with absolutely no sacrifice in angling performance, Pro-Line Express models provide stable platforms for a broad range of boating activities.
